

Leading the Security Industry

Investing in new technologies requires time, subject matter expertise and the experience to understand the interconnected dependencies of your business critical applications.

Much more than a sales agent or “consultant,” blueviolet networks is a full-service provider who supports clients with a staff of consultants, project managers, trainers, and highly skilled, expert engineers.

Design

Constant engagement with leading solutions providers as well as emerging technologies, allow us to navigate through the noise of marketing, helping our clients stay focused on what matters most - business drivers. Our vendor agnostic approach means there is no conflict of interest. We are your advocates from proof of concept to finding you the best terms and conditions offered by providers.

Install

Communication throughout the entire process helps keep deployments on time and on budget. From the initial discovery and documentation to the coordination with the many inter-dependent providers required, blueviolet networks will manage the often-overlooked partnerships, internally and externally, that are necessary for a successful project completion.

Maintain

Regular evaluation of our customer service processes help us implement improvements based on feedback and evolving customer needs. We stay updated on industry best practices and emerging technologies to enhance our customer service capabilities. We remain committed to always providing timely and clear communication with our valued customers.

Protect What Matters.

Security Solutions

Detect, Verify, And Act On Critical Events.

Our solutions provide the right information at the right time so you can take decisive action. Powered by cutting-edge strategies, advanced AI, video analytics and more, we keep technology simple and easy to use, so you can do your job safely.
